

Everyone, Meet

JOE DUNCKO

Joe Duncko is a Senior Frontend Engineer at BlastPoint, Inc. He is a former startup founder who has nearly a decade of experience designing, building, and iterating minimum viable products for technology startups.

He is a pillar of Youngstown's software engineering community, serving as Co-Organizer of Code Youngstown - Youngstown's most active community of software engineers, boasting over 300 members - since 2017. Previously, Joe was the founding director of HackYSU - Youngstown State University's hackathon.

Most recently, Joe brought his industry experience to the classroom to teach web development related courses at YSU. That experience culminated in him creating Dev Youngstown - a program that partners promising Youngstown startups with promising student software developers.

Joe serves as an Entrepreneur in Residence focusing on Software Development at the Youngstown Business Incubator.
